

2012/12/21

A decade ago, in 2012, there was a wave of chaos. According to the records of the Mayan civilization, 2012 will be the end of the fifth "sun age", and it is predicted that the doomsday will come on December 21. At that time, many theories began to speculate that various disasters were about to occur, but this was only a misunderstood statement.

On December 7, the Mayan tribal elders denied the "doomsday theory", that day was the "zero day" of the re-time in the Mayan calendar, indicating the end of reincarnation, the beginning of a re-time, not the end of the world.

Out of imagination, I used PS to make a scene of a disaster scene. I'm afraid nothing happened at that time, otherwise it must be more terrifying than this picture. I also hope that everyone can enjoy life and cherish the relatives and friends around you. After all, life is only once, and disasters cannot be accurately avoided when they occur.

2012 Phenomenon

