

The Romantic Story of Pompeii

Pompeii, Italian Pompei, preserved ancient Roman city in Campania, Italy. Around noon on August 24, 79 CE, a huge eruption from Mount Vesuvius showered volcanic debris over the city of Pompeii, the population was crushed or asphyxiated, and the city was buried beneath a blanket of ash.

In this picture, it's about a young boy's life who lived in Pompeii. He was born in a well-to-do family, this is very common in Pompeii because at that time Pompeii it's richer than other cities in ancient Italy. The boy grew up well and got a good education. Meanwhile he met a beautiful young girl in school and he believed the girl was his Mrs. Right. The boy's life seems to be well-being. But when the Mount Vesuvius exploded, the boy could only hug his lover and accept his destiny. But their sacrifice did not go to waste. He and his lover became a pair of statues to let us learn about this historical story and their love to each other would become endless.
