

Illustration and Writing Contest—Now and Future:
2020 vs. 2030

Although autonomous car has already appeared, it is expensive and not so popular. Nowadays, most cars need people to drive, and the technology is not yet mature. Once the technology is more advanced in the future ,driverless cars will become more and more commonplace. People may be able to do nothing in the car, eating snacks or closing our eyes to rest are possible, and we are allowed to do anything we can do. The design of the chair will be transformed into a more comfortable bed, and the dashboard will be replaced by screen projection. What else do you expect to included in your car? Modern technology can realize your dreams.