Now and future: 2020 vs. 2030

Today in 2020, 18-year-old college students have great dreams and full of vision for the future, but they often feel frustrated because of small things and even want to give up. Ten years later, in 2030, that innocent girl will be 28 years old. After the experience of society, the girl learned to be strong and brave. Despite the enormous pressure from life and work, she was able to face the world with a smile. Time keeps going forward, ten years is enough to make a huge change in a person. Now and future, time is changing, the environment is changing, the world is changing, and people are also changing.
