

2020

2030

Illustration and Writing Contest- Now and Future: 2020 vs. 2030

I drew a girl that is represented the earth. In 2020, the outbreak of coronavirus affects many aspects of the world. People had an effect on the severe epidemic. The epidemic is causing deaths all over the world. So, I drew the girl wear a mask and cry for those people's deaths.

In 2030, I think the rapid melting of glaciers will cause sea level to rise. And marine debris may kill more species and endanger human's health in the next decade. Because of the environmental pollution, many plants can only grow in greenhouse instead of open country.