

Illustration and Writing Contest- Now and Future: 2020 vs. 2030

My design concept is the progress of human and the improvement of technology which changes our life style. With the advancement of science and technology, many innovative inventions have made human life more convenient.

This kind of development has also led us into the era which fulls of automation. It has also brought us a different world view. Although we don't know how the future will be, it proves that we are continuing to work hard and to make progress. The boundary in the picture connects two different eras. I compared the changes in the past ten years in the same place. Though it is only a decade it is also a footprint of our growth.
