

People always think that water and air can be use forever.

so we take them for granted no matter what the truth is.

Hundreds of millions of garbage have been dumped into the rivers, lakes and the sea it really causes a lot of pollution nowadays.

Even though industrial development makes our life easier and more convenient, it also endangers the earth seriously because of the discharge of industrial sewage and exhaust. The soil and the food we plant have been polluted as well.

So what we can do is to save energy, reduce carbon, and protect the environment, protecting the entire ocean and even the entire environment through small details.
