

Illustration and Writing Contest - Now and Then

In the past, there were no televisions, online games or computers in life. Therefore, children played together in courtyards, and created the interesting games, such as kicking shuttlecocks, hopscotch or spinning top. They could learn from the games also learned how to socialize with others. Nowadays, most of the people use phones or computers everyday. Whenever it is, they couldn't live without their phones. People use 3C products to talk with friends, play online games ,meet new friends and relax, shopping on line etc. Although it is convenient to us, but also make us become distant to others.
